

Welcome to the latest e-zine from Vincent Timber. Here you'll find all the latest news and updates from one of the UK's most knowledgeable, respected and fastest growing distributors of the finest natural timber cladding.

Made from ultra-strong wood plastic composite, it won't splinter, bleach or rot and delivers uncompromised durability year after year. It is LunaComp – the new, all-weather decking system available in the UK from Vincent Timber, the country's leading supplier of sustainable, high performance timber options.

With more wood fibre than a piece of solid wood, it is the natural alternative to traditional wood decking. It requires no surface treatment – just a gentle brush with warm water keeps it clean. Available in Graphite Grey or Rich Mocha Brown, LunaComp retains its colour, shape and strength against whatever the great British weather throws at it.

The stylish and durable wood plastic composite decking system comes with a unique FastClip design for quick and easy assembly. And with a patented no-waste production process, LunaComp combines usability, durability and low environmental impact to deliver the perfect decking system for private and public developments.
