Roto Azuro: Endless blue sky

It has all the charm of a skylight opening up new perspectives to you...

Designed by Roto, Azuro is a groundbreaking panoramic window of remarkable dimensions.

A garden in your attic?
A bath under the stars? Why not?
With Azuro anything is possible.

At the mere touch of a button, the window panels slide back to the sides giving you a space that is completely open to the sky. In just a matter of seconds your bathroom is transformed and you have a luxury sundeck. Light and space are the essential principles of interior design: experience living in a house unlike any other.

Unique design concept

Using a patented stacking technology, the window panels slide discreetly out of sight between the roof and the rafters. This is guaranteed to save space and give you freedom of movement. The windows panels can be individually detached for cleaning.

Azuro may be a hi-tech product, but this doesn't mean the quality of the design has been overlooked. This skylight is available in natural wood or white wood on the interior, with a protective stainless steel casing on the exterior.

Needless to say, safety glazing, along with the best thermal insulation and soundproofing are standard on Roto Azuro windows. All these features combine to enable you to get the best out of your new-found freedom.

The benefits at a glance

- The charm of a skylight in your roof
- Windows open to give a space of 2.60m x 1.70m
- Electrically powered
- Patented technology in roof partitioning
- Easy to clean
- Exterior awnings are available on request
- Rain sensor is a standard feature
- Suitable for roofs sloping at 25° to 65°
- Triple glazed units also available on request

It couldn't be simpler
