A New Look for Leading UK University

2337no CPSVario C9 seats with a total value of over £370K were installed into 18 lecture theatres for a leading UK University. As a long standing client, the University together with the Architects enlisted the experience of CPS who were able to provide a dedicated team to see the project right through the design and planning stages to an 'on time' installation.

Designer Fabrics Create the 'WOW' effect

2no large Lecture Theatres that over the years had become the subject of use and abuse had the full overhaul treatment. The full commercially approved contrasting fabrics from the new CPS Designer range have certainly created a 'wow' effect within the University and helped brighten the rooms up.

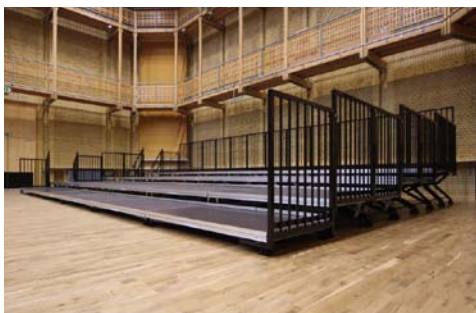

The Complete Package

When a school business manager recently was tasked with revitalising the hall, a representative of CPS was invited in to provide a solution for the staging. 46 years of experience ensured CPS's proposal met the exact requirements and desired look the school was hoping to achieve. The complete package included a purposed designed staging system in hardwood effect flooring and 280no chrome framed chairs in a durable beech lacquered finish all supplied and installed by CPS to perfectly blend in with the room decor and contrasting curtains.

Hitting the Right Notes

A large symphony orchestra group decided it was time to upgrade and improve the flexibility of the main hall space. The multipurpose venue had a complete refurbishment during a pre planned shut down and the new Alu Combi Integral leg staging system specified up with durable anti-slip flooring certainly helped add to the finishing touch.
